

API-120: Advanced Macroeconomics for the Open Economy, Fall 2014Harvard Kennedy School*Course Syllabus: prospectus, outline/schedule and readings

Staff: Professor: Jeffrey Frankel Littauer 217
 Faculty Assistant: Minoo Ghoreishi Belfer 510A (617) 384-7329
 Teaching Fellow: Maximilian Eber
 Course Assistants: Kay Kim, Changgi Lee, and Tim O'Brien.

Times: Lectures: Mondays and Wednesdays, 2:40-4:00 pm, L230.<sup>1</sup>
 Review Sessions: Fridays: 8:40-10:00 and 10:10-11:30 am, L230.<sup>2</sup>
 Final exam: Monday, Dec. 15, 2:00-5:00 pm.

Course Description: This course is the first in the two-course sequence on Macroeconomic Policy in the MPA/ID program. It particularly emphasizes the international dimension. The general perspective is that of developing countries and other small open economies, defined as those for whom the terms of trade are determined on world markets and for whom foreign income, inflation and interest rates can also be taken as given. The focus is on monetary, fiscal, and exchange rate policy, and on the determination of the current account balance, national income, and inflation. Models of devaluation include those where the price of internationally traded goods in terms of non-traded goods is central. A major overall theme is the implications of increased integration of global financial markets. Another is countries' choice of monetary regime, especially the degree of exchange rate flexibility. There will be applications to the Dutch disease and financial crises, among other topics.

Nature of the approach: The course is built around analytical models. Although real-world examples will appear throughout, the course will rely very heavily on theoretical and econometric analysis, as is customary in economics classes. This is not an appropriate course for students who want some basic exposure to open-economy macroeconomics. It requires sustained immersion in relevant economic theory, and will not present a primarily descriptive or historical approach. Having said that, the course largely leaves to the successor course, API 119, the mathematical derivation of behavioral equations from first principles of individuals' optimization of intertemporal utility.

Who is expected to take the course: This course, like Advance Macro for the Open Economy II (API 119), is a required component of the MPA / International Development sequence. It is envisioned that a typical student might one day be making policy decisions in a central bank or economics ministry or an international financial institution, but first needs training at a high level of intellectual rigor. In addition to MPA/ID students, a very few other students are sometimes admitted by permission of instructor – for example, someone who has taken ITF220 and done well in it, and who in addition is comfortable with calculus and the other mathematical tools that distinguish the MPA/ID curriculum.

Required tools: Besides macroeconomics, some knowledge of basic microeconomics, international economics and statistics is presumed. Analytical tools that will be used include especially calculus; also some differential equations, probability, and multivariate regression analysis.

- Sections on Fri., Sep 5th, are moved to Mon., Sep 8th, 4.10pm, instead (in Starr auditorium).
- Sections on Fri., Oct 10th, are moved to 1.10pm & 2.40pm on the same day (in Starr).

Grading : Problem sets 25% (eight of them), mid-term exam 25%; final exam 50%.

Problem Set	tentative due date (11:30 a.m. in the MPA/ID drop box)
1	Wednesday Sep.10
2	Wed., Sept. 17
3	Wed., Sept. 24
4	Wed., Oct. 8
5	Wed., Oct. 29
6	Wed., Nov. 12
7	Wed., Nov. 19
8	Wed., Dec. 3

For each problem set, each student must decide whether to work in a group or to do it on his or her own. Those who do it on their own (1) must not discuss any aspect of the problem set with any other student, (2) need to indicate below their name when they hand in the problem set that they did it on their own, and (3) will then receive a small bonus on the grade (one point). If you indicated that you did it on your own despite having discussed something with another student, that would be a violation of academic integrity. Please check the dates of the midterm and final exams. If you cannot take the exams, do not take the course.

Complete readings:

In short: Most of the course will be based on articles. (See reading list. )

For lectures 5-7, the text will be Chapter 10, “Inflation and Monetary Policy,” of David Romer’s Advanced Macroeconomics (McGraw Hill: New York), 4th edition, 2012. This is just one chapter, but Romer is the text for API119, Macro II, so most students will have to buy it anyway.

Textbooks for further background: Most students will have already studied basic and intermediate macroeconomics. The necessary pre-requisite background in macroeconomics at a basic level is represented by Greg Mankiw, Macroeconomics, 8th edition, Worth: NY, 2013.

Students will probably want to acquire World Trade and Payments, R. Caves, J. Frankel, and R. Jones (10th edition, Addison-Wesley Longman, 2007), especially those who have not previously taken a serious course in international economics. It is abbreviated WTP on the syllabus and will be referred to often in the course. At a considerably more advanced level, the recommended text is Maurice Obstfeld and Kenneth Rogoff, Foundations of International Economics (MIT Press, 1996).

Readings: The complete reading list is below and posted on the course website under “online materials.” Required readings in this course (indicated with asterisks) should be available online. Please see the online reading list for full details about availability of readings and links to online readings.

Topics and schedule:

Tentative
due dates:

I. DEVALUATION AND THE TRADE BALANCE

1. (9/3) Derivation of Marshall-Lerner condition; J-curve

II. THE MUNDELL-FLEMING MODEL

2. (9/5) Keynesian trade balance; TB empirics; Intro to Mundell-Fleming
3. (9/8) Monetary and fiscal policy with a fixed exchange rate; Reserve flows
4. (9/10) The model with a floating rate, perfect capital mobility; Impossible Trinity ___ PS 1 due

III. MONEY AND INFLATION

5. (9/15) Aggregate Supply, money growth and inflation
6. (9/17) Monetary policy: Dynamic inconsistency and rules ___ PS 2 due
7. (9/22) Seignorage and hyperinflation

IV. PURCHASING POWER PARITY

8. (9/24) Does PPP hold empirically? Deviations: patterns & speed of adjustment. ___ PS 3 due
9. (9/29) Why does PPP fail? Sticky prices; Tariffs & transp. costs; Nontraded goods

V. SMALL OPEN ECONOMIES

10. (10/1) Devaluation in small countries
11. (10/6) The Salter-Swan Model (nontraded goods)
12. (10/8) Dutch Disease ___ PS 4 due

[10/13 Columbus Day holiday]

VI. EXCHANGE RATE REGIMES

13. (10/15) Classification; Pros and Cons of Fixed vs. Floating Rates
14. (10/20) Optimum Currency Areas & Currency Unions
15. (10/22)

MIDTERM EXAM

VII. INTEGRATION OF FINANCIAL MARKETS

16. (10/27) The theory of gains from intertemporal trade
17. (10/29) The Lucas Paradox ___ PS 5 due
18. (11/3) Interest Rate Parity

VIII. MODELS OF EXCHANGE RATE DETERMINATION

19. (11/5) With flexible prices.
20. (11/10) With sticky prices: the overshooting model

IX. CRISES IN EMERGING MARKETS

21. (11/12) Speculative attack models ___ PS 6 due
22. (11/17) Warning indicators; Sudden stops; Contagion.

X. THE CARRY TRADE, RISK, AND PORTFOLIO DIVERSIFICATION

23. (11/19) Exchange rate forecasting and Forward rate bias
24. (11/24) Optimal portfolio diversification ___ PS 7 due
25. (12/1) Sovereign risk & debt dynamics
26. (12/3) Fiscal failures ___ PS 8 due
